

Supporting pupils with SEND in the classroom through adaptive teaching

Thursday 16th February 2023
9.30am – 3.00pm

This online session will explore a range of time-efficient practical approaches that will help schools ensure that classrooms and lessons are inclusive and supportive of pupils with Special Educational Needs and Disabilities.

Exploring:

- the findings from research unpicking the ‘ingredients’ of high-quality teaching
- the concept of adaptive teaching
- a range of ways to meet individual pupils needs through the use of a range of scaffolding techniques
- the use of graphic organisers to help pupils demonstrate their understanding and support learning long-term
- how to create anxiety free routines and including the importance of the layout of the classroom
- how to encourage participation in learning
- strategies to promote effective group work
- ways to develop pupils’ independence through self-regulation

Participants will also be able to network with fellow colleagues, sharing good practice and approaches to manage workload and identify next steps for improvement at their own school.

The cost of this is £135 per person with discounts available for multiple bookings. To book a place on the webinar email pauullongden@outlook.com
